

Why Insight's Enterprise License Manager?

Keeping up with software entitlements involves so many touchpoints and complexities that compliance terms are often unclear. Insight gives you resources like the Enterprise License Manager to help you turn this software challenge into a well-managed process that saves time and money.

Here are some of the things we bring to the table:

- First Microsoft® Gold reseller certified in Software Asset Management
- Dedicated consultants with 10+ years of experience
- Strong global footprint in North America, Europe & Asia-Pacific
- Helped Microsoft & IBM Lotus develop first licensing programs

How Enterprise License Manager will help your business

Insight's Enterprise License Manager seamlessly integrates with your existing software environment and gives you unmatched visibility across business units. We empower you to track, analyze and manage your software assets throughout the entire lifecycle, in real time.

With dynamic features — like a configurable catalog, punch-out methodology and integration with leading discovery and deployment tools — Enterprise License Manager allows you to reassign licenses to employees, monitor software usage and harvest unused licenses. This helps you:

- Eliminate overbuying and maverick purchases.
- Reduce IT intervention in software cycles.
- Mitigate risk and reduce costs.
- Optimize software investments.
- Leverage existing tools to boost management capabilities.

We're committed to meeting your needs.

Using our Software Asset Management (SAM) and licensing expertise, Insight helps you implement our Enterprise License Manager solution quickly and efficiently, so you can begin managing your assets more effectively.

Insight is your expert connection to the licensing solutions that help businesses run smarter.
